

A Comprehensive Guide to the Wound Ostomy and Continence Nurses Society Core Curriculum

The Wound Ostomy and Continence Nurses Society (WOCN) Core Curriculum is a comprehensive educational program that provides nurses with the knowledge and skills needed to provide expert care to patients with wounds, ostomies, and incontinence. The curriculum is based on the latest evidence-based research and is updated regularly to reflect changes in practice.

The WOCN Core Curriculum was first developed in 1983. It was created in response to the need for a standardized educational program for nurses who care for patients with wounds, ostomies, and incontinence. The curriculum has undergone several revisions since its inception, and the current version was published in 2021.

The purpose of the WOCN Core Curriculum is to provide nurses with the knowledge and skills needed to provide expert care to patients with wounds, ostomies, and incontinence. The curriculum covers a wide range of topics, including:
